Rising Facility

As one of the most popular options on our reclining chairs the rising facility is excellent for anyone having trouble getting in and out of a chair. At the touch of a button the chair can raise to around 30 degrees so making it easier for anyone to step out of the chair.

For many of our clients one of the hardest obstacles to overcome when living on your own is just getting out of a chair. A chair fitted with a rising facility can change peoples lives including allowing them to stay in their own homes, or just easing everyday difficulties.

All of our chairs can be fitted with a riser, call us on 01462 678050 to arrange for someone to visit and assess your needs on getting out of a reclining chair.

With a range of options available including the rising facility, massage and heat options, and a twin motor facility. The single motor version of the chair also uses a unique "wall hugging" operation, the chair moves itself away from the wall when the footrest is raised, to ensure space for the back to recline.
